BACKGROUND

Pediatric infectious diseases continue to be a major cause of illness and death in children, especially in Asia. Challenges include new diseases, antimicrobial resistance, and unequal healthcare access.

To address these pressing issues, the 12th Asian Congress of Pediatric Infectious Diseases (ACPID 2026) will be held. The congress will take place in Bandung, Indonesia, from August 14-16, 2026. It is hosted by the Indonesian Pediatric Society (IDAI) in collaboration with the Asian Society for Pediatric Infectious Diseases (ASPID).

This international gathering aims to foster dialogue, strengthen regional collaboration, and promote innovation in clinical practice and research. Through various sessions like lectures and workshops, ACPID 2026 invites participants to engage and contribute to advancing pediatric infectious disease care across Asia.

THEME

“Fostering Asian Collaboration in Pediatric Infectious Diseases Control to Strengthen Resilience Against Future Global Threats”.

REMARKS

"The congress will highlight critical issues in pediatric infectious diseases, including vaccine-preventable diseases, neglected tropical diseases, emerging and re-emerging diseases, as well as the importance of antimicrobial stewardship and infection control in improving child health outcomes."

Prof. Dr. dr. Anggraini Alam, Sp.A, Subsp. IPT(K)

Chairperson of Indonesian Pediatric Society – West Java Branch Chairperson of the Committee

"This congress stands as a critical platform for the pediatric infectious disease community across Asia and beyond to exchange knowledge and address the ever-evolving challenges of our field, including emerging pathogens, unpredictable global outbreaks, and the growing threat of antimicrobial resistance."

Prof. Dr. dr. Edi Hartoyo, Sp.A(K)

Head of Infection and Tropical Diseases Working Group Indonesian Pediatric Society

REMARKS

"This congress serves as a vital platform for advancing pediatric infectious diseases across Asia and beyond. It fosters meaningful collaboration, facilitates the exchange of cutting-edge scientific knowledge, and unites healthcare professionals in a collective mission to safeguard the health and wellbeing of children."

Dr. Piprim Basarah Yanuarso, Sp.A(K)

President Indonesian Pediatric Society (IDAI)

"This year's congress provides a timely opportunity to reflect and strengthen our collective efforts in addressing the challenges of pediatric infectious diseases, including the emergence of new pathogens, antimicrobial resistance, and persistent health disparities."

Dr. Mike. Y. W. Kwan

President Asian Society for Pediatric Infectious Diseases (ASPID)

“Hello everyone!

On behalf of the organizing committee, I would like to invite you to join the 12th Asian Congress of Pediatric Infectious Diseases (ACPID) 2026, which will be held on August 14–16, 2026, at The Trans Hotel and Convention Center, in the beautiful city of Bandung, Indonesia.

This congress will bring together experts, researchers, and clinicians from across Asia and beyond, to share the latest updates and breakthroughs in pediatric infectious diseases.

Let’s learn, collaborate, and strengthen our network to improve child health across the region.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to Bandung — the city of creativity, culture, and hospitality.

See you at ACPID 2026!”
